Namba Gear Releases Online Video How To Stuff A Big Namba Studio Backpack

How Much Studio Gear Actually Fits Into The Big Namba?

Monrovia, CA, August 1, 2008:

Southern California based Namba Gear announces the release of their online video showing that a laptop recording studio, including a 25-key MIDI controller, will actually fit into their Big Namba Studio Backpack.

The Big Namba Video Spotlight is located online at:
<http://www.howaudio.com/vids/play.php?vid=http://howaudio.vo.llnwd.net/o25/u/NambaShort.flv>

Captured by HowAudio.com, the video features Los Angeles recording artist, violinist, and sound designer, Laura Escude. Laura is also known for establishing the L.A. chapter of the Ableton Users Group.

Laura is shown working on some tunes at a local coffee house and takes the opportunity to demonstrate how she transports her entire mobile studio using the Big Namba Studio Backpack. The video's accompanying music is courtesy of Laura Escude entitled "Nabhidance".
